

Dear Parents/ Carers

Welcome back. I hope you had a lovely Half Term holiday. We have another busy term ahead of us with lots of exciting things taking place.

We have started this term by introducing a new reward system "The Class Dojo." Each child has been given their own electronic creature who counts the rewards. If your child receives 10 Dojo points they will receive a certificate and entry into the end of term raffle! The bronze, silver and gold certificates still remain as do the rewards. This term the children are working towards receiving their silver certificate. Please ask your child about the Dojo points.

Thank you for your continued support.

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

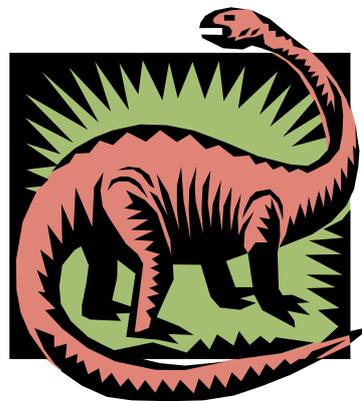

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
